Better Than Ezra
Death Valley LSU
 Ezra & Sons, LLC

Better Than Ezra reaches back to the bands beginning roots where they came together at Louisiana State University and goes back to those great college days in this officially licensed LSU EP. On Death Valley, the guys take traditional LSU and Tiger Band tailgating songs and put their Ezra spin on each to modernize it for today's students. This can easily be heard on "Hey Fighting Tigers," "Double Shot of My Baby's Love," "Tiger By the Tail," "Chinese Bandits," and a personal favorite "Hey Baby." Honestly the LSU tailgating songs have never sounded so good, and this is coming from a Tulane graduate. Also included on this exclusive EP which can be found at iTunes, Amazon.com, and select LSU affiliated stores are BTE's original songs "This Time of Year" and "Hell No!," inspired by LSU football and their time at the University. For diehard Ezralites, "This Time of Year" was actually inspired by the I-55 drive to the Ole Miss vs. LSU games according to lead singer Kevin Griffin. Be sure to grab this little ditty for every LSU fan you know!—Sheri Bleuler McKee
